Brink's Case Tipster Slain; Police Seize 2

Ex-Convict Gangland Style Shooting Victim In Suburb of Boston

BOSTON (AP)—Two men were booked today on suspicion of murder in the gangland-style slaying of an ex-convict who reportedly divulged information to the FBI about the $1,218,211 Brink's robberty.

The victim was William J. Cameron, 49, a Dorchester district hoodlum whose body was found Sunday in his parked car at the rear of a Navy barracks building on the South Boston waterfront.

Pair Identified

Booked on a charge of "suspicious persons in connection with murder" were Thomas J. Ballou, 27, of Quincy, who was free on $20,000 bail on an indictment of being an accessory in the Brink's robbery, and Thomas A. Callahan, 50, an ex-convict waterfront "tough guy."

Police said they have information that Callahan recently beat Cameron severely after accusing him of being a "stool pigeon" — an informer.

Ballou was indicted less than a month ago after authorities accused him of serving as courier for Thomas F Richardson, 48, and James I. Faherty, 44, while both lay in hiding in a Roxbury district tenement.

Last To Be Captured

Richardson and Faherty were the last to be captured of the 10 men in custody on charges of being the Brink's robbers.

Cameron's body was slouched under the dashboard of his car with two bullet holes in his face, one at the nose and the other in his right cheek.

A police official said Cameron once lived in a house that had been "staked out" as the hideout for Faherty while he and Richardson were evading police for more than a year.

The official said Cameron apparently never got the money he was promised for hiring the Boston apartment and went to the FBI after several attempts to collect his "fee" for his services to Faherty.

Steel Parleys Resume, Both Groups Silent

NEW YORK (AP) — Negotiators for the nation's three largest steel producers and the United Steelworkers of America today resumed wage contract talks after a Sunday recess.

The sessions began last Tuesday, and a meeting was held Saturday in an effort to speed an agreement before contracts expire June 30.

Failure to negotiate a new contract by that date could lead to a strike of 650,000 workers in the steel industry.

Representatives of both sides maintained silence as they entered the conference room in Hotel Roosevelt. They consisted of a four-man team from the United States, Bethlehem and Republic Steel firms, and a four-man team from the union.

Spokesmen for the companies said the talks called for much spelling out of issues and careful step-by-step deliberation on details. They said neither side had reached a point where it was in a position to make public any substantial information.

38 Already Executed

Argentina Revolt Fails, Rebels Slain

BUENOS AIRES (AP) — Argentina's military regime pushed a determined hunt today for leaders of a bloody weekend revolt staged by army and civilian followers of ex-dictator Juan D. Peron.

The government announced firing squads executed 38 rebels in speedy and unprecedented retaliation. It indicated many more would face a similar fate as swift courts-martial, convened under martial law, sat around the clock.

The executions were carried out under martial law provisions. Argentina's civil penal code provides no death penalty.

Hundreds Seized

Security forces swooped down on known Peronistas in many Argentine cities. Some 500 civilians were reported arrested in Rosario, 11 at Santa Fe, 50 at Santiago del Estero, and 20 at Corrientes. Mendoza, site of an abortive plot earlier this year, was virtually sealed off as authorities mounted a special guard and ordered five arrests

The revolt—crushed in 12 hours by government air and ground forces—flared at 11 p.m. Saturday in Buenos Aires and three other major cities. Some 100 persons reportedly may have been killed or wounded.

The insurgents struck at two points in the federal capital. At the same time they staged uprisings in La Plata, 35 miles southeast of Buenos Aires; Santa Rosa, capital of La Pampa province in central Argentina, and Rosario, 180 miles northwest of Buenos Aires.

Planes Rout Holdouts

Loyalist forces directed by the vice president, Adm. Isaac Rojas, quickly smothered the revolt in Buenos Aires and Rosario. Jet fighter and navy bombers finally smashed rebel holdouts in La Plata and Santa Rosa.

President Pedro Aramburu, who returned from a tour of the interior after the shooting, branded the uprising a "mad adventure." He vowed that "energetic measures" would be taken against all who took part.

Loyalist forces scoured the land for two retired generals branded as the men who masterminded the abortive revolt. They are generals Raul Tanco and Juan Jose Valle, both big army bosses when Peron was president. Both were retired summarily when Peron was overthrown last fall.

Argentina's supreme military court went into emergency session Sunday night to decide the fate of rebel prisoners. Two rebel army officers and 22 civilians were reported shot on the spot as the revolt was being quelled. Later the government announced the execution of seven more officers and seven noncommissioned officers. They included Col. Oscar Lorenzo Cogorno, ringleader of the uprising by elements of the 7th Infantry Regiment at La Plata; retired Col. Alberto Eduardo Cortines; and retired Lt. Col. Ricardo Ibaseta.

Observers predicted the startling firing squad tactics unleashed against the rebels would put a brake on disgruntled elements who might have notions of further plotting against Aramburu's regime.

Even the Communists, who in the past have been accused of aiding the Peronistas in sabotage activities, denounced the weekend rebellion.

Cypriot Rebels Call for Attack

Countrymen Are Told To Drive Out British

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP)—Greek Cypriot rebels defiantly called on their countrymen today to launch new savage attacks as thousands of British soldiers combed the hills of northwest Cyprus to search them out.

New leaflets were tossed about the villages of the Troodos Mountain region during the night by EOKA, the pro-Greek underground, urging Greek Cypriots "to hit and hit the tyrant until Cyprus becomes free."

The leaflets warned:

"We will continue in this new year with a new faith, resolution, patience, perseverance and self-sacrifice until the tyrant . . . is driven from the fatherland and the blue white flag of Greece flies above this bloodstained and long-suffering island."

200,000 Are Uncontrollable

Tito Mobbed by Crowd At Stalingrad Welcome

STALINGRAD (AP) — President Tito of Yugoslavia, accompanied by Soviet leaders Nikita Khrushchev and A. I. Mikoyan, was mobbed by an uncontrollable crowd of 200,000 persons jammed around the railroad station when he arrived in Stalingrad today.

An American woman, Mrs. Betty Mase of Bronxville, N. Y., traveling as a reporter with the official party, was swept up by the mob and forced into Deputy Premier Mikoyan's car.

She had been chatting with him in the railroad station when the crowd engulfed them and she was unable to detach herself. She described the crowd as "wildly enthusiastic, friendly and uncontrollable."

Similar scenes have occurred in Moscow and Leningrad on Tito's triumphant tour of the Soviet Union.

From the station, the official party drove to Marmaev Hill, where the Nazi tide was turned during the battle for Stalingrad in World War II.

At the monument over a mass grave, a memorial to the defenders of Stalingrad, the crowd pushed and shoved and Khrushchev had to leap up on a granite structure and admonish them.

Looking as stern as possible for a man who obviously was enjoying the show, he rebuked them with gestures, since no voice could be heard. The mob moved back a few steps, giving the notables a chance to get to the monument. Then Khrushchev wagged his finger at them and grinned broadly.

Doctors Issue Noon Bulletin

Ike Rises, Walks to Chair, Condition Still 'Excellent'

Speculation Due on Ike's Election Bid

Operation Is Certain To Touch Off Debate For at Least a Month

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower's operation seemed certain today to touch off a month or more of renewed speculation about his candidacy for re-election despite claims from some Republicans that it makes no change.

Several Democrats said they hope he sticks by his Feb. 29 decision to seek a second term, although most concede privately they think their chances would be better against another GOP candidate.

Several of Eisenhower's doctors said they see no reason for him to change his mind if he recovers as they anticipate.

No Political Statements

Eisenhower's spokesman, Press Secretary James C. Hagerty, brushed aside all political questions. "I have just one thought in mind, and that is to get the President of the United States out of the hospital," Hagerty said.

In any event, it seemed likely that Eisenhower might reserve a final decision for the four to six weeks his doctors say will be required for full convalescence.

Six weeks will expire July 21, about a month before the Republican National Convention in San Francisco.

Eisenhower has said, with reference to his heart attack last Sept. 24, that if he ever feels he is not up to another term he will say so immediately.

Illnesses Unconnected

His doctors have declared there is no connection between the heart attack and his new illness.

Dr. Paul Dudley White, the Boston specialist who was a consultant to Eisenhower after his heart attack, said the President "should be able to recover quite well and carry on normally."

White talked to newsmen in Winston-Salem, N.C., where he went to make a speech after coming here to consult with other doctors before the operation on Eisenhower. He said "I believe this was, and will have proved to be, a temporary illness that does not need to change" Eisenhower's second-term decision.

Gov. Averell Harriman of New York, who announced Saturday his active candidacy for the Democratic presidential nomination, said he sincerely hopes the doctors are correct in saying Eisenhower can run again. Appearing on an NBC television program, he said he does not think the operation "will have any influence" on the campaign.

Hopes for Early Recovery

Adlai E. Stevenson, also seeking the Democratic presidential nomination, said at Chicago he hopes Eisenhower recovers speedily. He said that in campaigning he will not stress Eisenhower's health "but only his conduct of office," and he added: "Of course, his health will have something to do with the conduct of the office."

Sen. Neuberger (D-Ore), speaking on an ABC TV show, said Eisenhower should make health a "first consideration" in deciding whether to stick by his decision to run again. Neuberger said some persons close to Eisenhower might "put their own political ambition ahead of his physical well-being."

Sen. Mundt (R-SD) called the doctors' favorable report on Eisenhower's operation "great news for the Republicans."

Sen. Goldwater (R-Ariz) said he has no doubt Eisenhower will run. Sen. Jenner (R-Ind), terming Eisenhower "indestructible," also predicted he will run again.

Russian Visit By U.S. Joint Chiefs Is Out

Invitation Is Rejected By Ike; Way Is Left Open for Later Move

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower personally rejected today a Russian bid for all members of the U.S. Joint Chiefs of Staff to visit the Soviet Union.

The President made the decision in a conference with his chief aide, Sherman Adams, in the Walter Reed Hospital room where he is recovering from an operation performed last Saturday.

Leaves Way Open

Eisenhower left the way open for some of the Joint Chiefs to go to Russia later on condition they were given plenty of time outside Moscow to look at "activities of special interest to their own services."

White House Press secretary James C Hagerty made the announcement of the U.S. position. He emphasized that the decision was the President's and that he was announcing it with the President's authorization.

The Soviet move was the outgrowth of an invitation, which has been accepted, for Gen. Nathan Twining, Air Force chief of staff, to attend the Soviet Union's aviation celebration June 24.

To Spend 8 Days

Twining plans to spend eight days in Russia.

Today's announcement apparently indicates the United States does not expect him to get an adequate look at the Russian defense establishment.

Mercury Goes To 86 Sunday, 90 Due Today

The season's first really warm weekend brought out swimmers, sun bathers and outdoor sportsmen Saturday and Sunday as the mercury climbed into the upper 80s.

The warm weather, which was predominant over most of the nation, is expected to continue.

With a high of 90 forecast for today, the thermometer was well on its way toward reaching that mark by 10 o'clock this morning when the temperature at the local weather station was 83.

Tuesday is expected to be even warmer with a high of 92 predicted.

The high mercury reading Sunday afternoon was 86 and the low temperature last night was 54.

Unseasonably warm weather covered most of the nation today.

High temperature readings were reported from the Rocky Mountains across the Mississippi River Valley into the middle and south Atlantic states.

The mercury was in the 70s at most reporting stations early today, but several overnight lows of 80 to 90 degrees were recorded in widely separated areas.

$215,549 Collected

Catholic High School's Pledges Total $584,378

A total of $584,378 has been pledged toward the construction of the proposed new Marion Catholic High School, according to a progress report issued to parishioners of St. Mary Church Sunday by Very Rev. William J. Spickerman, pastor. Of that amount, the report showed, $215,549, or approximately 37 per cent, already had been collected.

The report was the first of what is to be a regular series of summations on progress towards getting the new proposed high school built. Preliminary plans, drawn up by the architectural firm of C. H. Shively of Fremont, O., already have been approved, Rev. Spickerman said Sunday.

Final drawings and specifications are being completed now and will be placed with contractors for bids within six to eight weeks, he reported.

THE NEW SCHOOL, to be built at an estimated cost of $620,000, will, according to the architect, be ready for use by September of 1957, Rev. Spickerman said Sunday. An additional $100,000 will be required to furnish the new structure, he added.

It was Oct. 24, 1955, when the first announcement was made of plans to build a new high school. For several years the need for a more modern building had been apparent. The present school, located on N. Prospect St just west of the church, was built in 1905, with an addition added in 1927. Rev. Spickerman summarized the need for a school in one sentence: He said: "Because of the continued growth of the community, the existing facilities are no longer adequate to accommodate the increasing number of children who are seeking admission."

Plans call for the school to be built on a 15-acre tract at Mt. Vernon Ave. and Forest Lawn Dr. on Marion's east side. The building will be a one - floor structure of modern, functional design capable of accommodating a high school enrollment of 500 students.

WITH SUNDAY'S report by Rev. Spickerman, the actuality of the new St. Mary school is a measurable step closer and the school's present plans for half-day sessions for students in grades one through eight next year may not become permanent.

The new building will contain nine regular classrooms, a gymnasium with a seating capacity approximating 1,800, boys' and girls' locker and shower rooms, a kitchen and cafeteria, shop, drafting and art room and an auditorium-chapel seating 470 persons in addition to other storage and operational space. A football practice field is planned next to the building.

Rev. Spickerman told his parishioners Sunday that "the availability of borrowed money is tightening" and urged that all pledges be paid. He reported a total of $34,796 already expended for campaign expenses, installment payments on the land and pledge collection costs.

Huks Burn 16 Buses

MANILA (AP)— Communist Huk rebels struck at a town 25 miles east of Manila Sunday night, killed a civilian and set 16 buses ablaze, Philippine News Service reports. It was the first major raid by the dwindling Huk forces in two years.

Westinghouse Strike At Mansfield Is Settled

MANSFIELD, Ohio (AP) — About 4,000 striking Westinghouse workers here were scheduled to return to their jobs today following a vote by union membership

Local 711, International Union of Electrical Workers, decided Saturday to go back to work after a walkout that began last Thursday. The walkout followed the firing of one worker for engaging in a fist fight.

Russell Yarman, president of local 711, said the greivance would be taken before an arbitration board in Pittsburgh within 10 days.

Raps Russia's Friendly Talk

West Should Not Relax, Adenauer Says at Yale

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP) — West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer called on the West today not to relax "even for one moment" its vigilance in the face of current friendly talk from Soviet Russia.

Adenauer called the present tactics "more dangerous than the former aggressive conduct" of the Kremlin.

He said the men in the Kremlin "are still not prepared to remove the main causes of the tension of the world."

Adenauer's remarks were in an address at a luncheon given in his honor by the board of governors of Yale University.

Earlier in the day, he received an honorary degree of doctor of laws during Yale University commencement exercises.

Adenauer is on a week's visit to this country.

The German leader asserted it is undeniable that the present Russian leaders have made an impression on some people by pushing Stalin from his throne—"after his death, it is to be noted."

But, he added, there are no signs to indicate the disavowal of Stalinism means the acceptance of those spiritual principles which are the foundations of the free world.

"Instead," Adenauer declared, "there are only new forms and methods used by a new, more dexterous leadership in the Kremlin," in order to reach the old Bolshevik objectives with fewer sacrifices."

'Exercises' Less Painful Than Sunday

President Up for 15 Minutes; Staff Sets Up Office at Hospital

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower today took another little walk, suffered less pain, and made a start toward resuming the duties of his office.

The doctors said Eisenhower took "walking exercises" around 9:30 a.m. (EDT) on his own initiative.

A 12:15 p.m. EDT medical bulletin said "The President's condition remains excellent," with pulse, blood pressure, temperature and respiration "essentially normal."

It added:

Walks To Chair

"He walked with but little support from his bed to an easy chair which was placed 20 feet from the bed.

"He sat in the chair for 15 minutes and then walked, again with little support, back to bed.

"During these exercises the President had less discomfort than yesterday."

Sunday — only 30 hours after his emergency surgery of early Saturday morning — the President walked a total of about 30 feet with attendants partly supporting him. Today the only assistance he had was a hand on the elbow.

Temporary Setup

A temporary White House staff headquarters was established at the hospital. Presidential aides came in at 9:08 a.m. (EST) with supplies of tablets, memo pads, pencils and other paraphernalia for conference use.

The group included Sherman Adams, the assistant to the President, Col. Andrew J. Goodpaster, White House staff secretary, and Ann Whitman, personal secretary to the President.

Adams told reporters he was arranging "a temporary setup so

British Papers Cast Shadows On Re-Election

LONDON (AP)—The Washington correspondents of most nationally circulated British newspapers told their readers today that the American people are increasingly dubious of President Eisenhower's physical fitness for re-election

"Growing U.S. view he should quit fight," headlined the Conservative Daily Mail.

Sees 'Deep Disquiet'

"There is deep disquiet in the United States today over President Eisenhower's health despite the optimistic and almost ebullient statements of the doctors," the Mail said. It added:

"The American public would be less perturbed if even one of the 13 or more doctors who attended the President had counseled caution or restraint or even said, 'Let us see how the President gets along—let us not rush things.'"

The pro-Labor party Daily Mirror declared bluntly:

"Public confidence in the medical opinions have been shaken by Saturday's operation, and it will take much more than publicity about Ike's golfing prowess to convince them that he is fit enough for another term."

Political Impact Deep

The independent Times said the "political implications of his present illness have possibly assumed a greater insistence than the fears inspired by his heart attack last year."

The middle-of-the-road News Chronicle said, "Neither America nor the world would forget it if the politicians were to urge the President to work beyond his physical endurance."

The Laborite Daily Herald said millions of American voters may "feel a little sickened, perhaps, if they feel, or know, that Ike's expectation of life is being sacrificed on the altar of the Republican party machine."

112th Commencement

OWU Graduates Hear Scientist Give Address

DELAWARE — One of the nation's leading scientists today cautioned the 1956 graduates of Ohio Wesleyan University that the more elaborate our technology becomes the more vulnerable our system becomes.

Dr. Paul B. Sears, a 1913 graduate of the university now president of the American Society for the Advancement of Science and chairman of Yale University's conservation program, was the speaker for the 112th commencement exercises this morning.

Science, said Dr. Sears, "is being applied out of all proportion, to the elaboration of consumer goods out of raw materials" while it could be put to better use helping man "to understand the whole picture of which he is a part, and to come to terms with it."

Man's food and comfort, he said, "depend upon an elaborate technology that can be upset by flood or wind, by the breakage of supply lines carrying fuel, energy or water.

"IN THE WEST there is one narrow mountain pass which carries the life-lines of a vast population as surely as our throats hold the jugular vein and windpipe necessary to our survival."

"Learn to know the place you live in," Dr. Sears told the graduates. "Wherever it may be, every farm, village or city is a living laboratory of physical, biological and social processes, none of which can be unravelled without thinking of the rest.

"It is by attention to these processes that the future of the community itself may be shaped, yet most people spend their lives in bland ignorance of the forces about them," according to Dr. Sears.

Science, said Dr. Sears, has helped provide us with leisure, "the privilege that has lifted man from his ancient barbarism."

"SO LONG AS human beings had to spend their energies in gathering and hunting, none were left for thought and creative arts. Only with the domestication of plants and animals came surcease from unending toil for all. Such was the birth of civilization."

No, added Dr. Sears, science threatens to "plunge us into a New Barbarism. For science is being applied, out of all proportion, to the elaboration of consumer goods out of raw materials.

The speaker continued, "The task confronting science today is too vast to be left to those make it their career. Every citizen must play his part, and must begin . . . by welding together a respect for nature's laws with the humane and sympathetic understanding of mankind which is a product of liberal education at its best. In this way, and this way only, can we avoid relapse into a New Barbarsim."

Dr. Sears described man's situation "as it appears to the eye of the naturalist" in the following manner:

"Imagine, if you will, a species, any species, of animal which has broken the bonds of climate and geology, to spread over the entire earth and dominate it.

"Imagine further that the individual needs of this species and its power to satisfy them have suddenly expanded beyond measure, with reference to water, minerals and the organic material produced by other forms of life. Imagine also that the range and speed of movement of each individual has increased tenfold or more,

"IMAGINE FINALLY that this species continues to multiply at its natural rate, but lives longer and survives in greater proportion than ever before. Precisely these things have happened to our own species, man.

"If you put this problem to any biologist I know, without telling him that you were talking of human beings, he would throw up his hands. He would tell you that no organism in his experience can continue to behave this way without disaster In the end it must come to terms with environment, which after all is finite.

"I doubt if he would admit that man is an exception, yet we have an impressive body of opinion which insists that the rules do not apply to man. Fortunately these people do not yet question the operation of biological law in human nitrution, medicine, or agriculture."

Layoff of Auto Workers Affects Many Localities

By SAM DAWSON

DETROIT (AP) — They talk here about layoffs in the auto plants the same way they do about the weather — few kind words for either. And they aren't sure yet which to blame for slow business.

The weather could improve. But Detroiters seem pretty sure today that layoff effects on trade, on relief rolls, evictions, repossessions, community life in many ways, and especially on other cities where cars or parts are made, will get worse before it gets better.

THE CITY, THE STATE and the industry, however, firmly contend that the trend will be reversed when new model production starts in the fall.

Until now the bad spring weather seemed the better whipping boy. Merchants point out there were six inches of rain in May, which dampened sales quite as much as the growing total of the jobless.

Hope that the layoff pay plan will cushion the blow is still to be tested. One of the big three auto companies says that the reserve fund it built up — at five cents for each hour worked by each employe since last June — will provide jobless pay benefits for a maximum of four weeks.

The United Auto Workers Union figures that since May 2, the date at which layoffs count in the plan, about 20,000 workers have been furloughed in states in which the supplemental unemployment benefit program is in force. State rulings in Ohio, Indiana and Virginia keep SUB from applying directly there.

SINCE SENIORITY rules apply, and only those who have worked for at least a year come under it, just part of these 20,000 are eligible and they are a small small fraction of the 185,000 laid off around the nation, most of them prior to May. 2.

Under the labor contract SUB became effective June 1, but it is today that the majority of those eligible are applying for the first time at the auto plant pay windows for their benefits.

Walter P. Reuther, UAW president, says the union has worked hard in recent weeks to tell members just who is eligible and for how much. He says it will try hard next time contract talks come up, in 1958, to increase both the amount and the length of payments.

Detroit's relief rolls are beginning to mount. The public welfare department reports a marked upturn in the number of applications from those whose unemployment benefits have run their 26-week course. In January there were only 61. In May there were 549 such applications.

THE TOTAL OF families on the relief rolls in May was 4,655, compared with 3,813 in January. But the over-all number of applications for relief, from persons in all industries, increased very little in May —other fields offset the slack in the auto industry.

The official count of auto layoffs in Detroit itself comes to 69,000. Detroiters, however, note that in addition to its proud title of auto capital, the city has enough diversification of industry to offset somewhat the auto slowdown.

Still, layoffs or weather, retail sales have slackened. Early reports on downtown department store sales show May volume off 3.4 per cent from last year and their suburban stores off 0.2 per cent.

Landlords are beginning to fret. Some tenants can't pay their rent, some can pay only part. Electric power consumption in the Detroit area is running behind last year, although nationwide it's 11 per cent above a year ago.

There is wide belief here, however, that the layoff crisis will crest in the model changeover period in late summer, and that the 1957 car production will reduce the number of jobless.

At the moment, however, it isn't pleasant for the workers, the cities or the companies.

Best Seller that's hard to beat

Buick SPECIAL 6-Passenger 4-Door Riviera

This '56 Buick is packed with new features— and priced close to the smaller cars!

WANT SOME QUICK FACTS on the big news in automobiles today—news that can guide you to a smart move and a real smart buy?

Then listen—it won't take long.

The 1956 Buick has so many new developments—in styling—in power—in performance—in ride and handling—that it is, literally, the best Buick yet. That's Fact No. 1.

And Fact No. 2 proves it: Buick today is more strongly entrenched than ever in the top three of the nation's best sellers—outselling all other cars in America except two of the well-known smaller cars.

One big reason for this success is the strapping new Buick SPECIAL—like the one pictured here.

It's priced right close to those smaller cars—but, like every '56 Buick, it's a whale of a lot more new car for the money.

It cradles a big, new 322-cubic-inch V8 engine that's record-high in power and compression, and crammed with engineering news even the costly cars can't claim.

It makes the most of every bit of power with a new version of Variable Pitch Dynaflow* that's the most efficient yet. With a new development the engineers call "double regeneration," Dynaflow gives you great new acceleration from the first thrifty inch of pedal pressure. Even before you switch the pitch.

And this '56 Buick cushions you in the softest ride ever. Shows an uncanny sense of direction on every curve and turn. Puts a whole new feeling of safety, security and solidity into every mile you drive.

So before you buy any car—catch up on the latest news. Come try a '56 Buick. When you see how much new automobile your money can buy, we don't think you'll ever settle for less.

*New Advanced Variable Pitch Dynaflow is the only Dynaflow Buick builds today. It is standard on Roadmaster, Super and Century—optional at modest extra cost on the Special.

Marion, Cleveland Cars in Collision

DELAWARE — A Marion man was involved in a two-car accident that occurred Sunday at 11:20 p.m. on U. S. Route 42 at Arnold, two miles north of Plain City, according to highway patrolmen from Delaware who investigated the incident.

Patrolmen said Robert Miller, 59, of 851 York St., Marion, as headed northeast on Route 42 and slowed for a railroad crossing in the village of Arnold. In slowing down, Miller was struck from behind by an automobile driven by Henry M. Key of Cleveland when Key was unable to stop his car. The Cleveland's man car left 36 feet of skid marks approaching the scene of the accident.

Key claimed another unknown driver struck his car in the rear shoving it forward into Miller's vehicle, patrolmen said.

Injured was a passenger in Key's auto, Rosemary Ring, 29, of Cleveland who sustained a laceration on her forehead when her glasses were broken in the impact. She was treated at the hospital in Marysville.

Both cars were damaged considerably, patrolmen said.

WCTU UNIT TO MEET

To Rebuild Plant

CINCINNATI (AP)—Officials of the Pennington Bros. bakery firm here said Sunday they plan immediate reconstruction of their Washington Court House plant, destroyed by fire last week.

H. G. Hutton, Pennington sales manager, said loss in the fire was about $500,000. He said reconstruction would take about three months, and that the firm's plants in Cincinnati and Kentucky would fulfill orders until the new building is completed.

Radio and Television

By JOHN CROSBY

Television in a Satellite

And what about television behind the Iron Curtain? Gary Stindt, NBC's bureau chief in Berlin, has made a report on television in Communist-dominated East Berlin which has been pretty well observed in West Berlin.

JOHN CROSBY

Since Russian radio is notoriously a propaganda device (and real dull, too), one would presume that East German television would be pure propaganda. It isn't, though, of course, there is plenty of that.

The weekly newsreel — which runs unchanged all week — has as typical topics: "Defeat of the Imperialists," "To the Conscience of the World" (which was a press conference and demonstration in East Berlin), "In the Sign of Friendship" (icebreakers operating in the Oder River), "Ten Years of Free German Youth" — all of which sounds like pure propaganda and was.

ANOTHER SHOW. "Topical Camera," is slanted and political but the propaganda sometimes backfires. "It was horrible to watch an original sound film of a trial," Stindt reported. "Four persons stood before a tribunal. Three of them later were sentenced to death. They were accused of helping hire skilled workers away from East Germany. The way the top Communist prosecutor 'Red Hilde Benjamin,' accused these four, while party members in the audience listened, applauded and booed, made one shudder."

The Soviet zone has many television stations now which have been running four years. Early this year a nine-station network went into operation which will have four more stations soon. Pictures are received very well in West Germany but the TV sets there have to have an adapter to get the sound. Many West Germans have the adapters.

HOWEVER, TELEVISION is a two-edged sword. West Germany has its own TV network and East Berliners and East Germans tune into that. During the Winter Olympics Eurovision transmission was carried on East German TV.

If East Germany should join the all-Europe television conference, it would be the first Communist satellite to form a permanent connection with western TV.

If the spirit of Geneva continues at all, viewers in Moscow might one day be taken on a TV tour of London, West Berlin, Paris — and the west might be taken on a tour of Moscow—a distant dream.

Whether wittingly or unwittingly, television in Europe seems bound to bring Europeans closer together, on both sides of the curtain. The East Germans are far too smart to let propaganda rule the air waves exclusively; if they did, they'd have no audience.

Non-political programs have hundreds of thousands of viewers; political programs much less. (The Communists are clever enough to intersperse political and non-political shows, thus holding on to a large audience.)

THE TALENT AND QUALITY of East German programs can't compare with American for financial reasons except in cases of live opera, operetta and theater transmission. Since the state pays for TV in Eastern Germany, the theatrical talent is the very best. Direction is pretty good and set design very good.

Political debate adheres strictly to the party line and here again this kind of telecast can backfire. During a recent East German party congress attended by many top Reds from the Soviet Union and satellites the camera candidly showed how over-organized and phony was the applauding and shouting; it also caught several party members looking frankly bored to death.

Orders went out to put the cameras back as far as possible. "An unobtrusive television camera," reports Stindt, "can become very embarrassing at times in a dictatorship."

Writer Reviews Top Changes In TV Programs During Year

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP)—The 1955-56 television season is virtually over. Well, what are some of the important things that happened?

It was a season when dramas and musicals grew longer and the quiz programs became inflationary. It saw the emergence of a new star, Phil Silvers, and the waning of an old star, Milton Berle. A year ago many people were talking about Liberace and now not so many are talking about Liberace.

Every viewer has his prejudices. To one, the most regrettable departure from the home screen was that of Jack Paar. To the same viewer the most heartily cheered departure was that of "The Stork Club." Television is both poorer and better because these programs are not with us.

A year ago "The $64,000 Question" was little more than a gleam in the eye of packager-producer Louis G. Cowan. Now the Cowan stable has three shows in high popularity: the big question, "The $64,000 Challenge," and "Big Surprise." The quiz virus has spread to the point where contesting for a mere $64,000 is small potatoes.

It was a big season for Shakespeare.

In live TV drama "The Caine Mutiny Court Martial" by Herman Wouk was unsurpassed entertainment.

Last fall a quiet, pleasant fellow named Perry Como was sent into the time spot opposite the great Jackie Gleason. Everybody smiled sympathetically. But in one of those David and Goliath contests that always make TV exciting, Como bested Gleason in the ratings battle—and next season Gleason will change his format.

There were many unshakeables. Ed Sullivan, continuing to lead with his left, knocked out two successive contenders—and soon will take on the redoubtable Steve Allen in the Sunday night ring.

Fair Question

The present mood of Congress calls for overt signs of disapproval of the foreign-aid program that began under President Truman and has been continued under President Eisenhower. There is too much popular dissatisfaction with foreign aid for legislators to disregard.

But this is going to be an example of mixed motives in representative democracy, because the reason congressmen are wielding a knife against foreign aid is not the same reason their constituents want them to wield a knife.

The constituents are resentful of the principle.

They are resentful of the bipartisanship it represents and particularly of the success of both the Truman and Eisenhower administrations in keeping foreign aid on a nonpolitical level.

They are resentful in some instances, moreover, of the international point of view it embodies. Isolationism still is a factor in politics, as Sen. Wiley of Wisconsin is finding out in his attempts to be renominated against the wishes of Wisconsin isolationists.

The real test of congressional motives in lopping off a billion dollars of foreign aid, or any other sizable amount, will be what happens to the money. Will it be saved and thereby left in the taxpayers' pockets, or will it be swallowed up in other expenditures, like the proposed expenditure for a new office building for the House of Representatives so all suites will have three rooms instead of two?

'Enemies of the People'

It took all night for Khrushchev to make the now-famous speech last February that found Stalin guilty posthumously of high crimes and misdemeanors against the Communist one-party dictatorship in Russia.

It takes half the night just to read the boiled-down version that has been published by the U. S. State Department. But no time is needed to understand how Stalin terrorized members of the Communist party as well as millions of other helpless people in the Soviet Union. This is one thing Khrushchev failed to describe in his speech.

Everybody who disagreed with Stalin or who he thought might disagree with him became an enemy. All enemies lost their voices. As "enemies of the people," the strongest charge Stalin could make, they could be disposed of in any way he desired. No one could second-guess the dictator while he lived.

There was no defense and no appeal. There was no press to tell what was going on. Fear of the unknown was the basis of the terror. Lack of information was the key to Stalin's personal power. He ran a one-man show, taking no one into his confidence, making all his decisions without fear of contradiction and all his blunders without fear of the consequences.

Stalin's successors are no better than he was until they prove they want to alter the circumstances that made Stalinism possible One-man dictatorship, they say now, was a tragedy for the Communist party.

One - party dictatorship continues to be a tragedy for the Russian people.

Anti-State Trend Reversed

The U.S. Supreme Court, which has been criticized for recent decisions seeming to wipe out the authority of states in fields where the federal government has asserted authority, reversed its recent anti-state trend last Monday.

The Taft-Hartley Act, it ruled, does not prevent state labor boards from exercising authority in strike situations. They may ban mass picketing, use of force and threats of violence by strikers, even though the strikers may argue that these are questions of unfair labor practice and therefore must be settled under federal law.

The Supreme Court is not nearly so committed to federalism as an absolute doctrine as its critics — most of them states-rights southerners — have been saying it is. In a former decision which some critics charged cut the ground from under state right-to-work laws, the Supreme Court was careful to point out that its ruling applied only to railroads and railroad workers, whose contractual agreements are governed exclusively by the Railroad Labor Act.

Southern critics, moreover, avoid the fact the 14th amendment to the Constitution made no exceptions to the rule that "no state shall make or enforce any law which shall abridge the privileges or immunities of citizens of the United States."

The 14th amendment, effective in 1868, made it clear that no state thereafter could legally discriminate against any group of U.S. citizens.

Divided Algeria

By Bernard Kaplan

Faure Suggests Solution for France's Headache

PARIS — Edgar Faure, France's most recent ex-premier, who has been little heard from lately, is waiting in the wings with a dramatic solution to the Algerian crisis.

He is the first top politician, outside the extreme left, to abandon the contention that Algeria must be kept whole and wholly within the French union. Faure would divide Algeria in two.

In the eastern portion of the huge territory, which is four times the size of France, he would create an independent Moslem state vaguely tied to France in the same way as Tunisia and Morocco are now supposed to be.

The rest of Algeria would be reserved for its French settlers and incorporated directly into the mother country. Algerian Moslems in this area would be encouraged to migrate to the independent state.

—:—

FAURE HAS NOT yet made his proposal officially and it is only one of several "compromises" being bandied about the French capital. But its significance lies in the fact that he is willing to let it be known he is considering such a plan.

Even more significantly, few observers here now think Faure will be risking his political neck if he puts it forward at the right moment in the Chamber of Deputies.

As late as a month ago, this would not have been so. Except for the Communists, nobody in official life was admitting the faintest chance of pulling out of France's richest colony.

"Algeria is France, France is Algeria" was the slogan seen and heard everywhere. To suggest anything else was to invite denunciation from all sides.

The big change that has occurred within the past few weeks is that Frenchmen have begun to recognize they may not be able to hold all of Algeria, or even any of it, unless a solution is found quickly.

A short time ago, the rebellion was being described here as certain to be shortlived once the government really applied itself to stamping it out. Nobody can legitimately complain of lack of vigor on the part of Premier Guy Mollet's government. It continues to throw troops into Algeria at the rate of 35,000 a month and still talks of "pacification."

But Frenchmen are now giving Mollet little chance of succeeding. There is no sign of the gigantic military effort decisively quelling the rebels.

The most to be said of recent French successes in the field is that they have, momentarily, thwarted the rebels' aim of mounting a full-scale offensive. The French are holding their own, but nothing more.

—:—

PEOPLE HERE remember bitterly that in Indochina, too, French forces were always announcing victories and the annihilation of rebels — until the war was lost. It is the memory of Indochina that is bringing many Frenchmen around to the view that, this time, they should not gamble for all and possibly end up losing all.

Meanwhile, the bitterness the military campaign and reprisals are engendering between Europeans and Moslems in Algeria makes any solution based on a common government appear increasingly unlikely.

It is here that Faure's scheme makes its strongest point. It does not try to reconcile the two groups within a single community. But it saves most of the land holdings and economic investments of the French settlers while meeting Moslem aspirations for a government of their own.

Faure and his friends think he is in a good position to put over such a plan despite the fact that his government foundered last December on the North African crisis. He stands almost squarely in the middle in French politics, but with just possibly enough friends on the right, with whom he was allied in the last elections, to win sufficient backing for his scheme. The more so, since up to now Faure has always been regarded as favoring a "strong" policy in North Africa.

Obviously, the time is not yet ripe. When it is, Faure's friends believe his proposal may well gain him a chance to form his third government. They see his plan as one of those unheroic but practical ways out that usually have managed to save France at the critical moment.

Observers, who point out that stranger things have happened, predict it might even mean a reconciliation between Faure and Pierre Mendes-France. The pair are the bitterest enemies in French politics. It is sufficient commentary on political conditions here to say that this is so though both are members of the same political party, the Radical Socialists, and actually stand quite close to each other on most issues.

Mendes-France quit the Mollet government because he insisted that a "political" rather than a "military" solution must be tried in Algeria. But, so far, he has not given support to any plan that would divide Algeria.

Informants here believe he may adopt such a view if the situation gets much more desperate, just as, when premier, he accepted division of Indochina when there appeared to be no other choice. In that case, he and Faure could find themselves linked up together.

Women First

By TRUMAN TWILL

The longer I ruminate about the preview of the future sketched by three professors from California Institute of Technology, the more certain I am that this egg-headed trio has pulled a sleeper on the male sex.

Their notion of the way technology will have transformed everything by 2056, by placing reliance on brains instead of bluster, calls for a revolutionary point of view about women.

The female sex, they say, will have to be cut in on science and engineering, to give the girls a chance to pull their share of the technological load.

Or, to be blunt about it, women must be given a chance to move in on men at the one place where men still have the inside position. The Cal-Tech trio thinks it is disgraceful that only one per cent of the engineers and about 11 per cent of today's scientists are females.

They want to take the lid off the potentialities of women — and that's the sleeper. Men had better wake up fast.

There is frightening evidence that women can be taught to do anything men can do and will do almost everything as well or better, once the sex barrier has been removed.

Chances are, they would be better engineers and scientists than men, if they tied into those specialties, because they are more pragmatic. They always have been more practical in their point of view. Cause and result are Siamese twins in their way of thinking. This has been the secret of their reputation for getting what they wanted. They just knew what they were doing.

Women are less easily led down the garden path. They have a proverbial eye for the main chance. What hell really hath no fury like is a woman blocked from getting what she wants.

Turn the females of this world loose with slide rules and let them get a taste of logarithms and scientific gobbledygook and there will be no heading them off — ever.

They will run the technological show, the same as they have run every other show they ever took a shine to. They will shunt the fumbling male into bypaths and detours where he can fumble his way over the cliffs of uncertainty into oblivion.

There will be nothing left for men to do but mess around in the uncertainties of politics, literature and art forms, while the women crack out the crisp certainties of the exact sciences. If scientific knowledge is the key to the future, which is the main thesis of the Cal-Tech seers, the female sex will end up with all the keys.

You can bet on it. You can give odds on it and have no fear.

The only thing that has held back the girls is the tradition fostered by men that the opposite sex had shortcomings which barred them from doing certain things.

Women never accepted that idea, although they didn't mind it as long as it didn't seem to hurt their chances; they were pragmatic about that, too.

But let them begin to taste scientific opportunity and their appetite for power will never be sated. Those three egg-heads from Cal-Tech have sown a whirlwind.

Israel Fights Economic Boycott

By Yuval Elizur

JERUSALEM — After virtually ignoring the Arab economic boycott for more than eight years, Israel is now preparing a counter-offensive. The Jewish state hopes to convince Western governments and commercial firms that they should resist the pressure which they claim the Arabs apply to cut off Israel's trade relations.

The first indication of this new policy was given in a speech by Moshe Bartur, director of the economic department of the Israel foreign ministry.

Bartur told the Economic Commission for Europe in Geneva recently:

"In the opinion of my government, one of the most disturbing aspects of the intolerable interference with normal trade relations of Israel lies in the compliance of some countries with the arbitrary rules laid down by the organizers of this peculiar form of economic aggression."

BARTUR CLAIMED that "Western governments have actually advised shipping, air and trading companies to submit to these illegal practices."

The 24th Zionist Congress, held in Jerusalem a month ago, adopted a resolution calling for active resistance to the Arab boycott. The scope of this economic warfare has widened recently, the congress held, and is now directed against Jews everywhere.

Zalman Suzayeff, representing Israeli business interests in the parliament, conferred recently with Foreign Minister Moshe Sharett on plans to discover weak spots in the Arab economy.

Suzayeff, formerly Israel's deputy minister of commerce, asked the government to establish a committee of experts in foreign trade to study the situation and formulate plans for a counter-boycott.

AN ELABORATE network of boycott offices exists in the Arab capitals, Western cities and commercial centers, according to Israeli sources. The main task of Arab consular officials, they maintain, is the gathering of information about firms trading with Israel.

Among the companies which have closed their Israel branches are American Express and BOAC. The British firm claimed economic considerations alone dictated their canceling service to Lydda airport in Israel. However, in view of a reported rise in passenger traffic to Lydda, Israeli officials are skeptical of this explanation.

The blacklist of ships that call at Israeli ports includes vessels of all nationalities. However the Arab states do not enforce this ban against luxury cruises that include stops in Israel as well as Arab ports.

THE REVENUE they would lose in such cases is too important to the economies of their port cities for the Arabs to carry through their threat, Israel maintains.

Arab diplomats have used pressure against many governments, including Bonn, at the time the reparations agreement to compensate for Nazi persecution of German Jews was being negotiated with Israel. Japan, Mexico and others allegedly have been "warned" at various times not to trade with Israel.

Discrimination against Jews in general has recently become a noticeable feature of Arab boycott efforts. The Saudi Arabian government bans trade with firms owned by Jews, and does not allow firms working for it to bring Jewish employes to Arabia.

In recent months Dutch, British and American firms have received questionnaires from the Saudi and Syrian governments inquiring whether they have Jewish directors or employes.

UNTIL RECENTLY the Israel government preferred to ignore the existence of the boycott in its official pronouncements. The feeling aws that discussion of the Arabs' tactics would constitute an admission that the Israel economy was suffering from them.

The new aggressive line is based on two considerations. First, Israeli diplomats state, is the immoral nature of the boycott weapon in peacetime. This behavior on the part of the Arabs constitutes a violation of the letter and spirit of the general armistice agreements, they say.

Second, these sources warn, the Arabs may be emboldened by success and turn the boycott weapons against the West. There already have been indications that France will be the first victim of Arab economic warfare because of the North African situation.

Letters to The Star

Coliseum Sound Deplored

To The Star: It is a well-known fact that the majority of us Americans have a very strong tendency to criticize or ridicule or complain about what some person or persons or groups have done or are doing.

I'll readily admit that the most of us aren't always aware, sometimes, of all the facts involved when we do so.

Therefore, to begin with, I would like to toss an exceedingly large bouquet of roses in the direction of any and all who had any part whatsoever in helping to secure for Marion County our wonderful building which is called the Veterans Memorial Coliseum.

I truly believe any resident of Marion County would readily come forth and proudly claim it as something that was sorely needed and that it is one of the finest structures in this part of the state—both the building, the parking facilities and the accessibility to it.

That, people of Marion, is my contribution to all those involved in making it a reality.

Now, then, I myself and many, many, many other people have what we believe to be a highly justifiable criticism or complaint to make. Why was the present loud speaker system at the Coliseum ever accepted? Was it ever tried out before it was paid for? I've always been under the impression that any merchandise must be satisfactory or it can be rejected.

Tuesday night at the Harding High School graduation exercises was a prime example. I do honestly believe practically everyone left the Coliseum after the exercises in utter disgust.

Please understand, the loud speaker system was the only complaint. The lighting was wonderful, the planning of the program seemed to be perfect, there are wonderful seats, there was a near capacity crowd. Everything seemed so nice, but we could not hear distinctly enough.

Is it at all possible to correct this situation?

117-Year-Old Ex-Slave Produces Proof of Age

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) — Registrars at the permanent registration office were certain they had caught an error. The birth date of William Edward Davis was listed as Dec. 25, 1838.

A form letter, asking the voter to "straighten out the error," brought a personal appearance by Davis himself, a former slave who submitted affidavits to prove he really is 117 years old. Davis said he remembers being sold in slavery at the age of 12 in Winston-Salem, N.C., where he was born.

Traveling Piano

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Composer Lukas Foss didn't like the concert grand piano provided for his solo performance with the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra.

A piano company rushed another from Belleville, Ill., 30 miles away. Foss tried it out but said he preferred the first piano after all.

The company moved the second piano back to Bellville at its own expense. "It happens all the time," a company official sighed.

Reverse Charges

The Once Over

Heartbreak in the Kremlin

Oh, how it now depresses us
To think of Leader Joe,
As we discover finally
He was a creature low!
His crimes would fill a record-book,
He slew with might and main
(He tried to steal the Kremlin and Snatch Lenin's watch and chain!)

II

He sunk the Volga boatmen's boats
To hear their drowning cries;
He ate up little children and
Put out their mommers' eyes!
He posed as grandma (not the wolf)
As we found out, you see;
Red Riding Hood did not suspect
The wolf in bed was he!

III

He bumped off Russian dancers just
To relish all their woes,
He slew the native ballet girls
To keep them off their toes.
He murdered in a mood of glee —
His crimes were by the bunch;
Now please don't ask us, "Where were you?"
(We all were out to lunch.)

ANY NEW FIELD of conflict in movies is welcome and it is good to get away from cowboys, cattlemen, sheriffs, gangsters, world conquerors, etc., and into the high altitudes of the circus world through the new thriller "Trapeze."

Burt Lancaster and Gina Lollobrigida, as daring young stars on the flying trapeze, may be starting a trend in which a movie celebrity who can't turn a double somersault in midair and be caught by another aerialist will feel untalented.

The moppets are going to love this one and already many households are being disrupted by Junior's determination to perform on a trapeze strung in the living-room doorway.

Adult reactions to "Trapeze" vary . . . Timid Tessie, for instance, closes her eyes because the movie screen has no net under it.

We have always wondered about the love life of trapeze artists . . . How does a wife feel at the moment before she takes a leap through space, dependent on being caught by her aerialist mate, if she remembers that in a row preceding the act she said, "Listen, ya big heel; I can get along without you"?

CAN YOU REMEMBER away back when people weren't afraid they would have a lot of money? . . . Now and then we wonder if what America needs mostly isn't a less frequent "coffee break." . . . Well, anyhow, Senator Kefauver can't kick; he asked the voters to answer yes or no.

It is pretty hard these days to explain to a kid that the Revolutionary War came because Americans were asked to pay a tax on TEA . . . Tito wants to resume life with Moscow and hopes the U.S.A. will finance it . . . He seems to say, "I am a friend of Uncle Sam and will defend him to his last dime."

YALE LOST AN unusual old grad the other day when J. Fred Baker died . . . He came to Yale 50 years ago, a green kid from the little town of Willimantic, poor and without influence, worked his way through academic and law as a reporter, and went on to become a power in the university, in state politics and at the state bar.

During the half century from the day he first set foot on Yale soil, he had never lived more than a couple of blocks from the old campus . . . He had never engaged in any physical sport in his life, yet was an influence in football and crew operations .

WHAT MAKES CHESSIE'S RAILROAD GROW?

One of a series telling what Chesapeake and Ohio is doing to make this a bigger, better railroad.

At Newport News, C & O tracks run right out on the piers, saving time and money. (Left) A new addition will increase the loading capacity of the coal docks by 20%.

"On the Road to Mandalay"

The easiest trade route from much of the American heartland to the far places of the world is through C & O's Atlantic seaport at Newport News, Virginia. Located on Hampton Roads, America's second busiest harbor, Newport News is expanding its port facilities to better serve its rapidly-growing volume of world commerce.

To handle the increasing imports of iron, chrome, manganese and other ores, Chesapeake and Ohio's new bulk cargo pier goes into operation in November. Costing more than $8 million, this new pier can handle with ease more than 8 million tons of imported ore a year.

Nearing completion, a $3 million addition to C & O's great coal docks at Newport News will increase the coal loading capacity to more than 2½ million tons per month. Over these piers, Chesapeake and Ohio loads almost half of the coal which this nation exports to fuel the fires of Europe's booming industry.

At the same time, Chesapeake and Ohio's mammoth classification yards are being expanded and rearranged to handle a better balanced traffic flow as more and more of the cars that carry coal down to the sea return loaded with imported ores for America's industry.

These new export-import facilities are only a part of C & O's continuing program of development and modernization. Up and down its 5,100 mile system, improvements totaling $100 million are now in progress which, added to the half billion that have been spent in the last ten years, makes Chesapeake and Ohio practically a new railroad. Chessie is growing and going!

New bulk cargo pier, now under construction, will handle increasing imports of semi-precious ores. General export and import tonnage in 1955 was 70% ahead of previous year and is heading for a new record in 1956.

No Stir Caused By Harriman Entering Race

New York Governor Drops 'Inactive' Role In Anticipated Move

By The Associated Press

Republicans took comfort from cheering medical reports on President Eisenhower today, while Democrats considered the effect of Gov. Averell Harriman's weekend entry in the presidential sweepstakes.

There was no hint from Eisenhower himself on how his sudden intestinal blockage and speedy surgery might affect the decision to run again made after recovering from his Sept. 24 heart attack.

Republicans seized on a medical forecast of "rapid and complete recovery" as an indication Eisenhower would lead the party again. Democrats expressed happiness at the apparent success of the operation, but some took up the "part-time President" theme again.

No Surprise to Adlai

Harriman abandoned his self-styled "not an active" candidate status. The front - running candidate for the Democratic nod, Adlai Stevenson, said Harriman's entry was no surprise to him. Stevenson said Harriman "has been an eager and active candidate since last fall."

The chief surgeon at Eisenhower's predawn emergency operation, Maj. Gen. Leonard D. Heaton, said he "certainly" saw no reason Eisenhower should not run again.

There were indications Eisenhower would refrain from any quick statement on whether he will tell the American people "instantly" if he ever feels he is not up to another four years in the presidency.

Declines Comment

Harriman declined to criticize or discuss his Democratic opponents —Stevenson and Sen. Estes Kefauver. He described both as "fine men."

Harriman told his questioners he felt he would be a better candidate for the Democrats because he could "give the kind of leadership necessary to win" not only the election but the war of ideas with Communism.

In Chicago, the Socialist party renominated its 1952 candidates—Darlington Hoopes of Reading, Pa., for president and S. H. Friedman of New York for vice president.

Trio Injured On Highways

Three persons sustained injuries in two weekend accidents that occurred in Morrow County, according to highway patrolmen from the Marion post who investigated the mishaps.

Both happened Sunday night, the first coming at 9:15 on U. S. Route 42 three miles south of Mount Gilead. Patrolmen said Lewis Whipple, 57, of Edison was northbound and was turning into a county road when his car was struck in the rear by a truck, also headed north and driven by Dorris Bush, 46, of Cleveland

Whipple sustained a bruised left arm in the crash and his wife, Hazel, 50, received a laceration on her mouth.

Bush was arrested and fined $10 and costs in Mayor Emory Murphy's court at Mount Gilead on a charge of failing to stop within the assured clear distance ahead.

Moderate damage was done to the rear of the Whipple car and considerable damage was done to the front of the truck.

At 9:55 p.m., Donald L. Yake, 21, of Waldo was riding a motorcycle on the Waldo-Fulton Road a mile east of the Marion-Morrow County line, in Morrow County, and struck a hole in the road. He lost control of the conveyance and it overturned, causing minor damage to it.

Ike Excellent

that communications between the White House and Ward 8 will be maintained."

Eisenhower's private suite is designated by the hospital as Ward 8.

Eisenhower was pictured as in good spirits with morale high after Saturday's predawn emergency operation for relief of what the doctors called a potentially fatal obstruction of the small intestine.

The surgeon who performed the operation, Maj. Gen. Leonard D. Heaton, said there is no medical reason for Eisenhower to abandon his second-term decision. Heaton is the Walter Reed commandant.

Sunday morning, just 30 hours after the operation, Eisenhower took his first, painful steps in his hospital room. Hagerty said doctors now feel such exercise helps to speed convalescence and enhance "the general body tone."

Supported at the elbows by two attendants, Eisenhower walked 15 feet from his bed to an armchair and back again. Seated in the chair, he took some deep-breathing exercises to "stretch" his lungs.

'Once Enough'

The original plan was for him to get in a couple more brief rounds of walking Sunday, but he apparently decided the discomfort at this stage was too great.

"Once was enough," he reportedly declared firmly. And the doctors agreed.

Heaton told a news conference Saturday that by today or Tuesday the President should be able to confer with White House aides, "sign official papers and carry on those functions of the government which are normal."

He said Eisenhower should be able to leave the hospital after about 15 days, and be able to return to normal working activities in four to six weeks. Golfing and swimming could be resumed by mid-August, he added.

Opens Office

Hagerty announced that an office to be used by presidential aides would be opened today in the lounge close by the chief executive's hospital room.

Replying to a question, Hagerty said Eisenhower is up to handling any urgent official business needing his attention. Up to Sunday night, however, aides had gone to him only once on business. That was simply to inform him of a decision they had made.

The decision was to postpone a White House conference Eisenhower had called for Tuesday to explore ways for development of "people to people" contacts among nations in the interest of promoting world peace. His associates told the President that because of his great personal interest in the project they had decided to postpone the conference.

The White House staff is studying what to do about other scheduled engagements.

At Saturday's jammed news conference at Walter Reed, surgeon Heaton made these points:

1. Physicians attending the President "look for a rapid and complete recovery" with discharge from the hospital about June 24.

2. Eisenhower "should be able to return to full duties at the White House" in four to six weeks. Meanwhile, convalescence after leaving the hospital will be at a place of Eisenhower's choosing, possibly his farm at Gettysburg, Pa.

3. The President's new illness had "no relationship" to the heart attack he suffered last Sept. 24, and "we do not expect his heart in any way to affect his convalescence."

4. There was "nothing suggesting a malignant (cancerous) disease" discovered.

5 If the intestinal obstruction had not been relieved through surgery, a gangrenous condition might have developed. "Unrelieved, a gangrenous bowel will cause death," Heaton said.

6. The surgery performed will, in Heaton's opinion, "improve his life expectancy because of the bypassing of this diseased area" of the small intestine. That intestine now leads into the large one at a new position. The 10-inch bypassed section was not removed, but it is not expected to cause any more trouble.

Difficult to Relax

Hagerty said a drainage tube running through Eisenhower's nostrils into his stomach was keeping him from relaxing completely in his regulation Army hospital bed. The tube is being used pending resumption of normal intestinal processes, expected shortly.

Mrs. Eisenhower and the President's youngest brother Dr. Milton S. Eisenhower were with him.

Late in the day he was visited by his son and daughter-in-law Army Maj. and Mrs. John Eisenhower, who were observing their ninth wedding anniversary.

The first accident happened at 9 o'clock Saturday morning at the intersection of Marion County Road 73 and State Route 4 1.6 miles south of State Route 203. That is south of Marion.

According to the patrol, Ruth I. Allen, 34, of Royal Oak, Mich. was driving south on Route 4 and a truck being driven west on the county road by Lafe A Frazier, 28, of Radnor pulled onto the highway. A collision resulted with extensive damage being done to the front of the Allen car and moderate damage to the right front of Frazier's truck.

Mrs. Allen received a laceration on her right knee and her one-year-old son, David, received a laceration on his forehead They were treated at Marion General Hospital and released

$78,149 Damage Suit Is Filed Here By Local Resident

A damage suit for $78,149 plus costs has been filed in Common Pleas Court by John A. Wagner, 229 N. Grand Ave., against Harley E. Ault, near Caledonia.

The suit is the result of a traffic accident Aug. 12, 1955 about 7:40 a.m. near the intersection of Route 30-S and County Road 174 east of Marion.

The plaintiff states in his petition that he was northbound on the state route and approaching the county road. He alleges that the defendant, headed north on 174, stopped momentarily, then drove out into the path of a westbound beer truck on Route 30-S. The truck swerved first into the patch of the plaintiff's car then back onto his own side of the road, the plaintiff states.

In so doing, 124 cases of beer fell from the large truck into the plaintiff's car, the petition states. The plaintiff said he dove to the floor of his car to escape injury from the falling cases of beer and in so doing claims he suffered back injuries and a prior quiescent arthritic condition was aggravated by the accident.

Tito

He said the official party did not have time to visit the Soviet Union's biggest monument to Joseph Stalin, a statue at the canal entrance about 20 miles from Stalingrad. Khrushchev denounced its construction as wasteful in a speech to the 20th party Congress last February.

Tito told the cheering thousands, "In peace as in war, Yugoslavia must march shoulder to shoulder with the Soviet Union toward the same goal, the goal of victory of socialism."

Khrushchev told the crowd: "It must be particularly pleasant for you Stalingraders to accord this welcome because the people living in Stalingrad experienced exceptional difficulties during the war.

"The partisans and, later on, the army organized in Yugoslavia under the leadership of the Communist party led by our friend, Comrade Tito, fought as heroically as every Soviet soldier here."

An estimated 500 persons visited the new home of the Marion Council, Knights of Columbus, at 1242 E Center St during an open house Sunday afternoon

The turnout yesterday from 2 to 6 p.m. was termed "a nice attendance" today by Robert A. Murphy, chairman of the open house committee, who said Council members were pleased with the event.

Visitors were taken on tours of the home and grounds by members of the open house committee and Council officers and adults and children were presented programs and souvenir gifts

Murphy said today representatives of most of the city's civic and fraternal groups attended the open house and added a number of organizations sent flowers to the home.

Facilities toured at the home, formerly the Emil Ackerman residence, included a large meeting room, kitchen and reception room on the main floor, the secretary's office and three other meeting rooms on the second floor, and recreation rooms in the basement and a blacktopped parking lot and play area at the rear of the home. War on Rackets

By Victor Riesel

President Eisenhower is determined to take a personal hand in smashing the underworld network inside labor — a crime combine which arrogantly refers to itself as "The Second Government."

VICTOR RIESEL

Word from the White House is that the Chief Executive made this decision after listening to the recital of facts which poured over the television networks during my appearance on "Meet the Press" on the night of June 3.

Mr. Eisenhower's anger at the mob's disdain for law and order and its exploitation of some big union treasuries and hundreds of thousands of working men prompted him to discuss the subject with AFL - CIO president George Meany the next day.

THE PRESIDENT asked no advice from any of his labor experts or political strategists, it was learned. He had something to say and that was that. The next day at the ceremonies officially opening the new labor headquarters across from the White House, Mr. Eisenhower made it a point to talk to Meany alone.

He told Meany he was aghast at the attack on me. He then indicated that he had watched the telecast and was now offering Meany any government facility labor wanted to clean up the crooked combine The AFL - CIO chief was delighted to hear that the President was personally interested. A conference was suggested.

This short talk made unprecedented political and labor history. Never before has a President talked personally to a national labor chief about the rackets. Nor has such a labor leader ever heartily agreed and welcomed the intervention of the government in this fight.

IT IS NOT CLEAR yet whether President Eisenhower will ask for a non - partisan Congressional probe or whether the AFL - CIO high council will ask for use of the facilities offered by the President last Monday morning. If Meany does ask for government cooperation, he presumably would have at his disposal the forces of the FBI, the Treasury Department and the White House itself.

However, the odds are that the AFL-CIO leaders will not ask the President to make these "facilities" available.

They are awaiting a call from the White House for a small conference in the next few weeks. At that time, they plan to explain their problems in detail and describe to Mr. Eisenhower the nature of the beast stalking their ranks.

THE LABOR MEN who discussed the President's offer Monday night, Tuesday and Wednesday of the past week prefer a coordinated governmental investigation of "The Second Government" rather than labor's use of the Federal facilities.

Because the President acted spontaneously out of sheer indignation, there was no immediate action on Ike's eagerness for an anti-crime campaign. The White House is awaiting a call from Meany. The impression of the labor leader, however, is that Mr. Eisenhower will set up the conference. I thought I'd report this now so the ball doesn't fall between two outfielders and get lost.

Apparently, too, there has been independent action by at least one of Mr. Eisenhower's advisers, Secretary of Labor James Mitchell. This cabinet member has been more than slightly riled by the crime syndicate's brash operation of some unions.

Several weeks ago Mitchell got in touch with the Justice Department and suggested that it move now against the looters. Contact was then made with Warren Olney Jr., head of the Justice Department's criminal division, who was most certainly interested.

THE LABOR SECRETARY, the original Justice Department contact and Warren Olney all got together, and out of their talks came plans for enrolling Secretary of the Treasury George Humphrey in this war for which "The Second Government" sure has been asking.

With the addition of the Treasury Dept., with its Internal Revenue Service, this becomes a mighty formidable fighting crowd which, like Meany's bloc of decent labor leaders, is just tired of being arrogantly and publicly defied.

Now that the President himself is interested and the most powerful labor policy makers have told him that they are willing to go along with a constructive and nonpartisan investigation, this combination becomes the toughest anti-racketeering coalition in history.

So put your money on "The First Government" in this fight.

Handbook on Diets

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK

There are at least 26 million overweight Americans, and Leonard Louis Levinson has just written a book dedicated to them all.

HAL BOYLE

His dedication reads:

"To the thin person, inside every fat person, fighting to get out."

A reformed fatty himself, this repentant sinner is the Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde of the diet field.

For most of his life Levinson, now 52, never counted his calories and preferred to take them rather than leave them alone.

He was a highly successful writer of film scripts, stage skits and radio shows. He wrote for Fibber McGee and Molly and many another entertainment headliner.

—:—

THEN HE WAS commissioned to write "The Brown Derby Cookbook," to celebrate the sophisticated cuisine of the Hollywood restaurant he patronized himself.

"In preparing that book," he recalled, "I tasted about 1,500 dishes they had in a card file as well as all those they had in the menu. For example, they had 23 different ways of preparing lamb kidneys—imagine that!—and I tried them all.

"The recipes weren't for people worried about putting on weight. Most of them started off—'take a half pound of butter. . .or a pint of rich cream and. . .'"

Levinson who wore a great brown walrus mustache when he started the project, resembled a walrus in other ways when it was finished. He was round, unfirm and fully packed. He was also short of breath and uncomfortable.

His doctor told him he had to reduce at least 13 pounds.

—:—

"I THOUGHT IT would be easy," said Levinson, "but it took me a full year. I had become too used to stuffing myself with rich food.

"But I like to throw myself into a thing, and I got really interested in nutrition and made a thorough study of it."

The result, after more than two years of experimentation with himself as the guinea pig, is a book on the other side of the dietery fence. It is called "The Complete Book of Low Calorie Cooking."

Just how thorough was his research?

"Well," said Levinson, "I found 365 ways to prepare a breakfast egg — a different way for every day of the year."

The book abounds with tips on how ordinary diet cheaters, such as the midnight icebox raiders and the between meals snackers, can gorge themselves on extra fodder that will fill their empty stomachs but won't put on weight.

—:—

"THE SINGLE most important thing a dieter should learn is moderation — then he can eat almost anything," he said.

"But moderation is something many people just can't practice. So for them the answer must be—to pick low-caloried foods to fill up on."

The days when he ate lamb kidneys prepared in 23 sauce-rich ways are past for Levinson, who fought successfully to get out of his old fat self. But he has no regrets.

"We are what we eat," he said, "and the more we eat the more we are."

Iowa Driver Escapes Injury in Upper Mishap

UPPER SANDUSKY — An Iowa man escaped injury but demolished his 1941 sedan when he crashed into the rear end of a tractor-trailer on Route 30-N near here at 5 10 a.m. Saturday, Upper Sandusky police reported today.

Richard D. Montgomery, of near Perry, Ia., eastbound on U. S. 30-N was unable to see the tractor-trailer which had stopped at the C. & O. railroad crossing, because of the heavy fog that blanketed the area Sunday morning, police said.

The truck driver, Sheldon L. Marchant, of Canton, had stopped at the tracks to look and listen before crossing in the near-zero visibility he told police. He was not injured and damage to the trailer was slight, the police department said.

CAMP PERRY, Ohio (AP)—Today is election day for 1 000 delegates to the 19th annual Buckeye Boys' State

In the top contest—for governor—Richard H Gorsuch, 18, of Westerville, is the Nationalists' candidate opposing Bill Lee Spencer, 18, of Youngstown, the Federalists' choice

Gorsuch, who is president of his local Future Farmers of America chapter and participates in football and track, beat out 13 candidates for his party nomination Sam McAdow of Middletown was the runner-up

Spencer, a Chaney High School athlete and one of seven candidates, heads a Federalist ticket which includes James Kaval of Cleveland, for lieutenant governor, Richard Frederick, Toledo, secretary of state, John Marple, Columbus, treasurer, James Spindler, Middletown, auditor, Dean Birts, 139 Linwood, Canton, attorney-general

Running with Gorsuch on the Nationalist ticket are John H Clark, Toledo, lieutenant governor, Lindsey Humphrey Akron, secretary of state, Bill J Zuga, Warren, treasurer, Clarence J Warfield, Sandusky, auditor; and Mark Levine, Cleveland, attorney-general

About 300 other offices—judicial, city and county—are at stake in the voting Ballots cast in the morning will be counted in the afternoon under the supervision of R. B Tharp, American Legion representative and acting secretary of state. The legion sponsors Boys' State

Seeking places on the state Supreme Court bench are 44 boys The chief justice candidates are William Fitzgerald Columbus, Don Lellis Cleveland, James H. Wild, Sandusky, Richard Dessenberg, Shreve, and Gene Delaplane, Upper Sandusky

The Supreme Court judges and state officers will be inaugerated at a ceremony tonight

In final party rallies last night, Arthur Graves of Mount Vernon was the keynote speaker for the Federalists, and Martin Gear of Columbus for the Nationalists

The Nationalists completed their platform Saturday and ended their convention before noon Sunday, enabling them to get a start of several hours in campaigning over the public address system Their platform calls for better highways, lengthening the Ohio Senate term from two to four years, a $3,200-a-year minimum salary for teachers, and improved civil defense training

The Federalists concentrated their program on affairs of Boys' State demanding transportation to the beach and a big party when the state closes

Both platforms called for laws enabling 18-year-olds to vote

The first issues of the Boys' State newspaper, the Hetuck, was published Saturday night George Barry of Portsmouth is editor, and John F Horner of Piqua, managing editor.

Texas Governor Candidate Blasts U.S.'s High Court

AUSTIN, Tex (AP)—Cowboy candidate for governor J Evetts Haley has called the Supreme Court" a bunch of cheap politicians" who should be impeached by Congress

Haley, former history professor and author, told a Democratic rally Sunday that if the Federal government should seek to enforce an integration injunction against a school board, the state should resist to the point of "throwing the U S marshal in the hoosegow"

If the government should send U S troops, "that would mean a police state," Haley said He said he didn't think the conflict would go that far He added that he would not want to carry resistance to the point of secession, commenting he didn't think it would be necessary

Traffic Death Toll Rises to 16 For Weekend

Eight Drownings and One Plane Crash Hike Total for State to 25

By The Associated Press

Warm weather over the weekend prompted Ohioans to indulge in water sports which resulted in at least eight drownings.

An Associated Press survey from 6 p. m. Friday to midnight Sunday showed an over-all fatality of 25 in the state. Sixteen deaths occcurred in traffic and one in a plane crash.

Drownings resulted from sports such as boating, fishing and swimming. Two Jackson County brothers drowned in an old gravel pit near Waverly where they had gone to fish. They went into the water apparently to wash up. Their bodies were recovered several hours later.

The list of fatalities:

FRIDAY NIGHT

Pamela Sue Trudell, 18 months, run over by a car backing out of the driveway at her home in Fairborn (Montgomery County).

Hayner Sargeant, 40, Lebanon, when his car collided with a truck at the intersection of Ohio 73 and U.S. 22 just west of Wilmington.

Mrs. Emma Behnke, 63, and Mrs. Mary Engel 64, both of Berea in a two-car collision at the entrance to Cleveland Hopkins Airport.

Jean Carlene Kongos, 4, Rt. 6, Portsmouth, struck by a car while crossing Ohio 139, about one mile north of that city.

Tribe Invades Boston After Yankees Take Finale

Houtteman, Garcia To Go In Divided Day-Night Bill

BOSTON (AP)—Winners in seven of 11 games on their current eastern swing, the Cleveland Indians open a five-game series today with the fourth-place Boston Red Sox.

For the Red Sox, who have lost five of nine June games, the series is an opportunity to overhaul the second - place Tribe and perhaps, also, the third-place Chicago White Sox. Chicago will be playing a three-game series at New York with the first-place Yankees.

Two games—day and night—are on the schedule here today, while the White Sox and Yankees are idle. A night game Tuesday and day games here Wednesday and Thursday conclude Cleveland's eastern trip.

Art Houtteman (1-1) is Cleveland's probable pitcher for today, against Bob Porterfield (2-4). Tonight Tom Brewer, whose 8-1 record is the league's best, will pitch for Boston against Mike Garcia (4-5). Brewer has beaten the Indians six times in a row, twice this season.

Before 47,485 fans in Yankee Stadium Sunday Johnny Kucks blanked the Tribe 6-0, although the 22 - year - old righthander yielded nine hits and gave four walks. The Yankees collected nine hits off loser Bob Lemon and three more off reliefer Don Mossi in the final two innings. They got half of their runs on pinchhitter Joe Collins' homer in the third with two on.

Lemon, for whom the loss was the third against seven victories, held New York hitless until the third when Billy Martin led off with a fly that went for a double when Al Smith misjudged it. Andy Carey flied out, sending Martin to third. Billy tried to leg it home on Kucks' tap to the mound and was out in a run - down play. Gil McDougald singled, and then Collins, batting for Hank Bauer, drove Kucks and McDougald across with his fourth homer of the season.

Martin slammed his second home run of the season into the lower left field stands in the sixth, and singles by Elston Howard and Martin, along with Carey's infield out, added up to another run off Lemon in the fourth. The final Yankee run was squeezed home on a bunt by McDougald. Martin scored it after walking and going to third on Carey's single.

Gophers Face Mississippi in NCAA Contest

OMAHA (AP) — The Minnesota Gophers and the Mississippi Rebels, making their first appearance in National Collegiate Athletic Assn. baseball tournament play, remained the only undefeated teams today.

The Gophers, a pre-tournament favorite because of their power-laden lineup, and Mississippi meet tonight in the battle of the unbeaten in third round play.

Minnesota handed Arizona its first defeat, 3-1 Sunday night, while the Rebels' Buddy Wittichen pitched the fifth one hit victory in NCAA baseball tourney history, stopping Bradley, 4-0.

Reds Drop 8-6 Verdict To Dodgers

CINCINNATI (AP) — Brooklyn's Dodgers now own two-straight wins from the Cincinnati Redlegs, but to get them, they had to lick the Reds at their own game—hitting.

For hitting is the Cincinnati stock-in-trade this year, with the home run poke its emblem.

And Sunday, the Reds got solidly outhit by the world champion Dodgers who made the most of 15 hits, including two homers, to win 8-6.

The Reds' troubles began early when starter Brooks Lawrence, a consistent performer with seven wins this year, was injured and forced to leave in the first inning.

The injury was a jammed pitching thumb from a fast liner by Jim Gilliam, and while it won't force Lawrence to miss his next hurling turn, the Reds had to fall back on a succession of four reliefers—Joe Black, Hal Jeffocat, Hershell Freeman and Paul La Palme.

The Reds got in some solid hitting themselves. Ted Kluszewski smashed a three-run homer and Wally Post immediately thereafter hit a round-tripper in the first inning.

Randy Jackson brought home the first four Dodger scores with a single in the first inning that scored Gilliam and Duke Snider, and then a two-run homer that brought Snider home in the third.

Cincinnati got a one-run edge in the bottom of the third when catcher Ed Bailey's single gave Post a chance to score.

Brooklyn took the lead again in the top of the fourth, punching a pair of runs across, but the Reds pulled even again, 6-6 in the same inning when Post's sacrifice fly brought Johnny Temple home.

The winning Brooklyn runs came on Charley Neal's two-run homer in the fifth.

The loss didn't take away the Red's National League lead, but it cut it down to three slender percentage points ahead of St. Louis.

The Reds have a day off today, returning Tuesday for the first of a two-game series with the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Split With Pirates

Cards Soar Within 3 Points Of First in National League

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Staff Writer

If Stan Musial would hit every day as he does on Sundays and if Herm Wehmeier could pitch against every club as he does against Pittsburgh, the St.Louis Cardinals would be a cinch to win the National League pennant.

Sunday Musial cracked four hits, including a home run and double, and drove in four runs as the Cardinals earned a split with Pittsburgh that cut Cincinnati's first-place margin to 3 percentage points.

Second Decision

Wehmeier, who hasn't been able to beat anybody else all year, shut out the Pirates 3-0 with six hits after they had won the opener 11-3. It was his second victory of the season, both over the Pirates, over whom he holds a lifetime record of 25-8.

Musial, a .320 Sunday hitter — 20 points better than his weekday average — has hit half his eight homers and has driven in a third of his 42 runs on Sundays.

Five National League teams are so closely bunched today a pennant would cover them all. Brooklyn, in fifth place, moved to within two games of the top by defeating Cincinnati 8-6. Pittsburgh, in first place for a couple of hours after its opening triumph, dropped into third place, a half game behind Cincinnati and St.Louis.

The New York Giants came from behind to nip the fourth-place Braves 5-3, leaving them still two games off the pace, only 7 points in front of the Dodgers. The Chicago Cubs buried the Philadelphia Phillies deeper in the basement, sweeping both ends of a double-heater, 2-1 in 11 innings and 5-2.

The New York Yankees salvaged the finale of their three-game series with Cleveland, blanking the Indians 6-0. Chicago's third-place White Sox climbed to within half a game of the Indians with a 3-2 triumph over Boston. Washington dumped Detroit out of a fourth-place tie by vanquishing the Tigers twice 6-5 and 12-9 while Kansas City snapped Baltimore's four-game winning streak with a 7-3 victory.

Bucs Take Opener

A pair of former Redbirds — southpaw Luis Arroyo and outfielder Bill Virdon—came back to haunt the Cardinals in the opener. Arroyo, traded to Pittsburgh earlier this year, held his former mates to seven hits and fanned five. Virdon, along with Gene Freese and Lee Walls, homered for the Bucs.

Blanked by Warren Spahn for six innings, the Giants erupted for four runs in the seventh that cost Spahn his fifth successive defeat. Foster Castleman's three-bagger — while trying to duck a pitch — highlighted the rally which gave Johnny Antonelli his fifth triumph, in relief.

Eddie Misis and Pete Whisenant teamed up to hand the Phils their double loss. Whisenant doubled and scored on Miksis' single in the 11th inning of the opener. Eddie also drove in the other Chicago run. Whisenant batted in three Cub runs in the nightcap with a single and double.

Pierce Wins 8th

Billy Pierce, off to his finest season in nine years, stopped Boston with six hits for his eighth victory in 10 decisions. The White Sox capitalized on a break to score all three runs in the fourth. After Nellie Fox's pop fly fell safely for a double, successive singles by Minnie Minoso, Larry Doby and Dave Philley followed. A forceout brought in what proved to be the run that gave Pierce his 102nd American League victory.

Enos Slaughter doubled in the tie-breaking run as a pinch hitter and the Athletics went on to defeat Baltimore and end their five-game losing streak.

Outfielder Jim Lemon rapped his third hit in the ninth inning of the opener, a single that drove in the tying and winning runs for Washington, then homered with one on in the first inning of the second game.

Pete Runnels collected six hits and drove in five runs for Washington.

Dick Wright Wins At Powell Track

Marion's Dick Wright captured one win and finished third in another heat at the Powell Speedway Saturday night.

Wright copped the second semi-final race and was third behind Ossie Osborn and John Coder of Richwood in the second feature event.

The races were marked by a new record in time trials set by Dick Good. He had set the Speedway mark a week ago.

Good, Don Hutchman and Dick Freeman finished in that order in the first feature while Larry Atcheson on the third feature. Dave Osterman was second and Slim Miller third. In the first semifinal, Ralph O'Day crossed the finish line first, with Good and Neal Seva trailing.

Dick Mossi and Dick Britton of Marysville trailed Wright in the second semifinal. It was Red Bales, Bill Clemmons and Charles Engle in a remaining preliminary race. In the feature, Good was victorious, followed by Seva, Engle, Osborn and Clemmons.

Yanks 'Playing Awful,' Casey Says, Seeks Help

NEW YORK (AP) —"We've been playing awful ball. I've been worried about us not playin' better. But I'm still in first place. It would be rough to be fourth with all these worries."

Casey Stengel was holding forth in his office adjoining the New York Yankee clubhouse after Sunday's 6-0 victory over Cleveland. The Yanks had dropped the first two games to the Indians and Casey was feeling a little better after salvaging the third. Once again the Yanks lead was a respectable 3½ games.

"You ain't gonna beat anybody the way we played Saturday" growled Stengel. The Yanks' sloppy performance in a 15-8 losing performance was still fresh in his memory.

"My pitching has been bad," he began. "In fact, every department on the club has been bad, except the catching. But the pitching has been the worst. Outside of (Whitey) Ford, the only ones who show any improvement are (Johnny) Kucks and (Tom) Sturdivant.

"And too many balls have been dropping in that outfield, too. And I don't say we have a perfect infield, but it ought to be better."

What was the solution?

"I don't know," Stengel answered. "I can't say they can't play. (Yogi) Berra and (Mickey) Mantle have been playing so gosh darn wonderful you'd think the others would do better.

"I'll see pretty soon what's gonna happen. This month will decide it."

Sime To Open Bid for Spot In Olympics

SANGER, Calif. (AP) — More world records and a great future were predicted today for Dave Sime, Duke's sensational "fastest human", as he pointed toward the first of the Olympic qualifying events — the NCAA Championships.

The 19-year-old sophomore set a new world mark in the 220-yard dash and tied the 100 standard for the second time Saturday night in far and away the best individual performance of this record-breaking year.

Sime will face the finest collegiate talent in the nation this weekend at Berkeley, Calif, but no one seems the least bit concerned about his chances.

Sime's big showing was the feature of the Central California Assn. AAU track and field meet but he had to give up part of the spotlight to Jack Davis, the former University of Southern California athlete who equalled the world record for the 120-yard high hurdles in :13.5. The mark was set six years ago by Dick Attlesey, another Southern Cal ace.

Both Sime and Davis credited their performances to outstanding competition and a lightning-fast clay track, especially resurfaced for the meet.

Fresno State's Mike Agostini pushed the southern flyer in both dashes. Joel Shankle of Duke was the impetus for Davis.

Sime spotted Agostini early leads and then came on with a rush to win going away.

Columbus Jets Take 2 From Montreal Club

By The Associated Press

It may be that the Montreal Royals could use Rocky Nelson more than the parent Brooklyn Dodgers.

The long-ball hitting first baseman was called up to the Brooks last Tuesday after blasting IL pitchers since the start of the campaign.

At the time, the Royals were leading the league by 2½ games. Not only have they been unable to lengthen the gap over the Rochester Red Wings, but their double defeat at the hands of the red-hot Columbus Jets Sunday reduced their margin to a game and a half.

The Jets, who now have won 14 of their last 21 games, came from behind a seven-run deficit to take the opener 9-8, then ran away with a 10-1 decision in the second game.

The Red Wings, meanwhile, split a doubleheader with the Havana Cubans, winning the nightcap, 6-5, after dropping the opener, 4-1. Both the other doubleheaders wound up in splits. Toronto downed Richmond, 7-1, in the first game but the Virginians came back to take the afterpiece, 3-2. Buffalo halted Miami in the opener, 5-3, and the Marlins won the second, 3-2.

Columbus appeared headed for a meek defeat in the opener against Montreal. But the Jets jammed home eight runs in the last four innings to take it. Singles by Spook Jacobs and Russ Rose drove home the tying and winning runs with two out in the final inning. The stunned Royals never were in the ball game in the finale.

Plumbers Defeat Columbus Nine in Easy 14-2 Victory

K & W Plumbing romped over the Magic Window Cleaner nine of Columbus Sunday night at Garfield Park, posting an easy 14-2 triumph.

Bud Thorpe held the Columbus club in check. He allowed seven base hits and struck out seven in coasting to the nine-inning decision.

The Marion nine came up with five tallies in the first frame. Dick Mulvaine opened the action when he reached first on an error. Jim Riley beat out an infield hit and Fritz Walters drove in the first run with a single to right ifeld. Bob Schnelker laced a double to score two. Dick Gherman walked and Jack Daum belted a triple, scoring himself on an outfield fly.

Riley drove in two more runs in the second frame following a hit by Thorpe and Mulvaine's base on balls. Russ Frank blasted a long triple in the fifth and came home on an outfield fly.

The Plumbers added six insurance tallies in the sixth stanza with Don Johnson powering out a home run with the bases loaded.

Sylvester Foster was on the hill for the losers. Jim Mitchell led the losers' attack with two base knocks.

Next non-league action for the Plumbers will be Saturday at 7 p.m. when they tackle the Mount Vernon American Legion Post at Garfield Park.

Contacting a qualified veterinarian should be a farmer's first step in controlling mastitis in his dairy cows, Ohio State University veterinaryians maintain.

Minor League Action Opened By Baseball for Boys Group

Another phase of Marion's expanding Baseball for Boys program, the farm system, was launched Saturday at the local Little League field.

Four American and National League minor league clubs opened play in a six-game schedule arranged for them by local baseball officials.

Initial action found Isaly clipping National City Bank 14-12 and Mac's Trading Post blank Marion County Bank 6-0 in American loop play and Hinton's down Vance's 11-5 and Marion Power Shovel-OSCO trim Wilhelm's 22-9 in the National league.

Six runs in the sixth on five hits gave Isaly its triumph over National City. Prior to that frame, the losers were holding a 12-8 advantage aided by a five-run first.

Holloway and Gilbert worked on the mound for the winners, holding the losers to six hits. They fanned nine, walked seven and hit two batters. H. Carnell, Granley and Chandler hurled for National City, permitting nine hits. They fanned 11 and walked 10. Gilbert homered for the winners.

Jay Cox held Marion County Bank to two hits in hurling Mac's to an opening session win. He whiffed 14. Cox's mates supported him with a nine-hit attack off Roush and Jackson of the losers. They fanned 13 and walked five.

Howman and Peddicord both had three hits for the winners.

Vance's was held to four hits by Bennett and Caudill as Hinton's won behind a nine-hit attack. They struck out 12 while walking nine.

Four runs in the opening frame started off Hinton's and it added five more in the third. Tilliam was the Vance flinger He whiffed 11 while walking 12 and hitting a batter.

Chaney and Gubernath both collected three hits for the winners.

Thirteen runs in the fourth frame on 10 hits gave MPS-OSCO its margin of victory over Wilhelm's.

The losers pulled in with six runs in the opening inning but six by MPS-OSCO in the second and three in the third deadlocked the score at 9-9. Gorenflo held the losers to four hits in notching the decision. He fanned 15, walked 13 and hit two batsmen. The winners pounded out 17 hits off Shilling of Wilhelm's. He struck out nine and walked five.

With 120 minor leaguers in uniform, it brings to 387 the total in uniform in the local system. The minor leaguers will resume action Saturday with another session.

Swaps Receives 2-Week Vacation

INLGEWOOD, Calif. (AP) —Swaps today begins a two weeks rest, well-earned by his world record performance of 1:33 1-5 in the Argonaut Mile at Hollywood Park last Saturday.

Owner Rex Ellsworth and trainer Mish Tenney plan to give the colt a breather until the $50,000 Inglewood Handicap June 23, at a mile and one-sixteenth.

Swaps now has three world records, the others being 1:40 2-5 for a mile and one-sixteenth set in the Californian last year, and 1:39 3-5 for a mile and 70 yards at Gulfstream last April.

First money of $29,750 in the Argonaut boosted total earnings to $511,500 for Swaps, the California-bred Kentucky Derby winner of 1955.

Littler Takes Top Prize in Open Warmup

NEW ROCHELLE, N. Y. (AP)— After the fourth round of the Round Robin Golf Tournament Sunday, Lloyd Mangrum looked at Gene Littler, who had just beaten him, and remarked:

"I've got to go with you for the Open. I picked Cary Middlecoff, but you're playing well and you've got things going for you. You're playing in luck."

It was Littler's second big check in two weeks. He collected $5,778.50 for a second-place tie in the Texas International after losing a playoff to Australia's Peter Thomson.

Leading all the way after the second round over the par-72 Wykagyl course, Littler shot 69-69-68-68-70 for a 344 medal score. He hit a near record total of plus 55 points in the round robin scoring system, which awards points for each stroke by which a player beats the others in his foursome.

Nearest to him was Ted Kroll, Fort Lauderdale, Fla., who trailed by only two strokes in scoring but two gathered only 31 points.

Dow Finsterwald of Bedford Heights, Ohio, finished third with plus 27 points.

In the last 10 years, anglers have taken 47,873 salmon from rivers in Nova Scotia.

Fleck's 69 Beaten

13 Local Golfers Top Score of Open Champ

Thirteen local golfers claimed "I Beat The Champion" medals today following observance of fifth annual National Golf Day Saturday here.

Eight linksmen bettered the 69 posted by defending National Open champ Jack Fleck with handicap at the Marion Country Club while one woman topped Fay Crocker, woman's champ. At the Mar-O-Del course, four men were winners.

Winners at the Country Club were William Foster, 74-14—60 Robert Graham, 76-11—65; Jack Bray Sr., 82-17—65; Jack Kinter, 86-19—67; Dr. William Leffler, 82-15—67; Dr. Richard Morgan, 82-15—67; Paul Kohler, 101-33—68; R. T. Lewis, 91-23—68; and Mrs. Evelyn Martin, 101-24—77.

Five others tied Fleck's total fired at the par 70 Oak Hill Country club in Rochester, N.Y., Saturday. They were John Tjaden, Jack Lord, Net Minard, Dr. Dan Brickley and Freeman. A total of 52 men and six women paid $1 entry fees for the right to match shots with the open champs at the Country Club.

Four of 13 entries at the Mar-O-Del course beat Fleck. Jim Forsythe fired 77-10—67, Bob Williams 76-8—68, Don Russell 75-8—67; and Cliff Willis, 79-12—67. Bud Metz with 81-12—69 tied Fleck.

Coming close to Fleck were Ted Fields with 86-16—70; Elmer Davis with 78-7—71; Jerry Wynn with 79-8—71; Norman Withrow with 75-5—71 Chuck Wynn with 82-10—72, and William Wiedemann with 86-13—73.

Warren Rowley, Bob Cripps, Dr. Richard Morgan and Bob Stout were class winners in a best 12 ball tournament held during men's day Wednesday at the Country Club.

Rowley and Cripps tied for Class A honors with 41's. In Class B, Morgan's 37 won it with Leo Groll posting a 39 and John Smith 40. Stout with 39 edged out Jack Kinter and R. T. Lewis for the Class C title. Kinter and Lewis both turned in 40's.

The annual club handicap tournament starts this week and a twilight golf session is scheduled Thursday night, the Country Club announced today.

Ray Augenstein, Mar-O-Del manager, today called the turnout there the last weekend "big" and said it was the "biggest weekend we've had this season."

A spokesman at the Country Club reported the weekend crowd "very good" and also reported the last weekend as "definitely" the largest of the season.

Bauer Sisters First, Third in Women's Play

VIRGINIA BEACH, Va. (AP) — Marlene Bauer Hagge was $2,000 richer today as she started preparation for next week's annual Ladies Professional Golf Assn. Tournament in Detroit.

Little Marlene registered an easy victory Sunday in the $12,000 Triangle Round Robin Tournament, the "plus and minus" derby in which she stacked up plus 50 points.

Mrs. Hagge, 22, from Ashville, N. C., now has grabbed first money in three of the last five tournaments. In one of the two she lost, she tied for first and bowed in a playoff.

Joyce Ziske of Waterford, Wis. finished second in the showdown round over the 6,065-yard, par 71 Cavalier Yacht and Country Club layout. She had plus 28 points, 22 off the pace.

Alice Bauer, Marlene's sister, picked up 22 points and wound up in third at plus 26. Defending champion Louise Suggs of Sea Island, Ga., was right behind with plus 25.

Deadlocked for fifth were Beverly Hanson of Apple Valley, Calif. Mary Lena Faulk of Thomasville, Ga., and Betty Jameson of San Antonio, Tex. — each with plus 14. Only other golfers able to finish out of the red were Patty Berg of St. Andrews, Ill., at plus 12 and Bonnie Randolph of Linworth, Ohio, at plus seven.

Bucks' Runner Tops in Meet At Milwaukee

MILWAUKEE (AP) —Glen Davis of Ohio State looms as a strong candidate for Olympic team membership on the strength of fine performances in winning the 400 meter and 200 low hurdles Saturday night at the Central Collegiate Conference track meet.

Davis captured the 400 meter hurdles in the new collegiate record time of 50 8 seconds, the best of the year anywhere.

The world's record of 50.4 was established by Yurity Lituyev of Russia in 1953.

Davis, awarded the John Nicholson Trophy as the meet's outstanding athlete, won the 220 lows in the new CCC record time of 23.6.

Kansas romped to the team championship with eight first places and 73 points.

Ted Wheeler of Iowa took the mile in 4 minutes 10.1 seconds or one-tenth second better than the meet record established in 1950 by Wisconsin's Don Gehrmann.

Other team points included: Notre Dame 39 1-6; Marquette, 24½, Missouri 23; Iowa State 22; Ohio State 17; Minnesota 15 1-6; Wisconsin 14; Iowa 12 and Western Michigan 9 1-6.

Freeman Loses Parts of Two Fingers, Operation Performed

CINCINNATI (AP)—Robin Freeman, phenomenal Ohio State basketball guard, lost parts of the middle and index fingers on his left hand in a woodchopping accident Sunday.

The slender guard, whose "miracle hands" helped him break a flock of scoring records, underwent surgery at Good Samaritan Hospital, after the incident. Hospital aides said he was in "good" condition.

His father, Robin Freeman, Sr., said that the two fingers were lost down "about to the second joint" but that his son "will have partial mobility" in the remaining finger section.

The elder Freeman said he did not ask his son details of how the accident happened, but said it came while his son was working in the yard at their Cincinnati home.

"He wanted to clean up the lawn, and of course, he's been inactive since the end of the (basketball) season. So I said he could," the father related.

"There were some old logs back there that I had been burning and they were kinda hard. He got his boy scout hatchet out and was cutting . . ."

Freeman, 21, and only 5-feet-11-inches tall, cut a wide swath through OSU school and Big Ten scoring marks playing a game where most of his rivals towered over him.

He pumped in an average of 32.5 points per game last season and put in more than 11 field goals per game in the Big Ten.

The Johnstown Johnnies of the Class A Eastern League are connected with the New York Giants.

'Battle Royal' Set For Armory Ring

A six-man battle royal will highlight Wednesday night's wrestling card at the armory here.

Promoter Les Fishbaugh has booked the Black Panther, Gypsy Bocaro, Harry Tanzi, Rip Hawk, Maurice Roberre and Bill Fox for the event. All six will be in the ring at the same time starting at 8:30.

The first two men pinned will return for a one-fall match following the battle royal and the third and fourth men eliminated also will clash in a one-fall event. The last two left in the ring will be pitted in a two out of three fall main event.

TEAM PICNIC SLATED

A family picnic will be held for members of the Hinton's Little League ball club and their families Tuesday night at Lincoln Park. The event is scheduled for 5:15 before the team's league game. Each family has been asked to bring a covered dish.

N.Y. Stock Quotations

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market continued its recovery today, keeping step with the recovery progress of President Eisenhower.

On Friday the market was knocked down sharply on the news that the President was ill, but in the closing minutes of trading a strong rally erased a major portion of the day's loss.

The rise carried many prices up one to around three points while losses were fractional.

Trading pace was around 2¼ million shares. On Friday, business mounted to 3,630,000 shares, second largest of the year.

Among better gainers today were Santa Fe Railroad, Nickel Plate Railroad, Gulf Oil, International Nickel, Du Pont, Eastman Kodak, Inland Steel (which had a block of 1,100 shares up 3 at 81), Chrysler, Goodrich, Boeing, and RCA.

U. S. government bonds were lower.
